Description of fiscal impact

HB 427, as amended, requires the Department of Labor and Industry (DLI) or local building department to provide the text or citation of the specific sections of the building code relied on to delay a permit application or stop a construction project and requiring a response within seven business days. There is no anticipated fiscal impact to the state.

FISCAL ANALYSIS

Assumptions

1. This bill imposes a $50 penalty for every day beyond the required response period. DLI assumes there will be no fiscal impact, DLI provides requested information as part of business process and assumes no penalties will be imposed.

Technical Concerns

1. Section 1(4) states that if "the department or local building department" does not respond to a request, "it shall pay" money to a requesting party. The provision is ambiguous as to the reference of "it" as to whether the term applies to the department or to a local building department. It is presumed that the non-responding entity, either the department or the local building office is subject to the fine. The title of the section, however, additionally includes the phrase "department penalty," making the applicability further ambiguous.
