Description of fiscal impact

HB 113 revises resident preferences for public contracts and contract term limits. There is no fiscal impact to the state as no additional services are necessary to implement the requirements of HB 113.

FISCAL ANALYSIS

Assumptions

- HB 113 revises resident preferences for public contracts and contract term limits and shifts responsibility for contractor and vendor residency determinations from the Department of Labor and Industry to the Department of Administration. The Department of Labor and Industry has not needed to make a determination on residency of a contractor in the last five years, so this legislation will not require a reduction in the department's full-time equivalency and will not have any fiscal impact on the department. The Department of Administration will be responsible for updating the policy, but can do so within existing resources.
