Description of fiscal impact

SB 472 increases the civil penalty for violation of the Streambed and Land Preservation Act of 1975 from $500 to $5,000 for each day that a person continues to be in violation. All funds collected in relation to such violations go to the local conservation district.

FISCAL ANALYSIS

Assumptions

Department of Justice

1. The Natural Resource Damage Program (NRDP) and/or NRDP's contractors are required to complete all appropriate permitting before beginning work. NRDP's contractors would be held liable for any civil penalty as a result violations. As a result, no fiscal impact is expected.

Department of Natural Resources and Conservation

2. SB 472 operates at the local level, with conservation districts responsible for enforcement and collection. No money passes through DNRC as a result of this bill.
