9 WHEREAS, the State of Montana seeks to place a child in a safe, loving, and supportive home

10 whenever the state is required to place a child with an adoptive ~~or foster family~~; and

11 WHEREAS, adoption ~~and foster care~~ agencies in Montana assist families with adoption ~~and foster~~

12 ~~parent~~ placements of children; and

13 WHEREAS, the adoption agencies ~~and foster care providers~~ of this state represent diverse

14 organizations and groups, some of which are faith-based and some of which are nonfaith-based; and

18 WHEREAS, the United States Supreme Court in Fulton v. City of Philadelphia, 141 S. Ct. 1868 (2021),

1 and individuals, have the right to free exercise of religion under both the state and federal constitutions, which,
2 under well-settled principles of constitutional law, includes the freedom to abstain from conduct that conflicts
3 with an agency's sincerely held religious beliefs; and

4 WHEREAS, ensuring that faith-based child-placing agencies can continue to provide adoption ~~and~~ 5 ~~foster care~~ services will benefit the children and families who receive those services; and

6 WHEREAS, the United States Constitution allows all adoption ~~and foster care providers agencies~~ to 7 operate according to their beliefs without fear of unjust government punishment; and

8 WHEREAS, in the unanimous decision in Fulton v. City of Philadelphia, the U.S. Supreme Court made 9 clear that state governments violate the requirements of religious neutrality when they undermine religious 10 beliefs or practices and that the "[g]overnment fails to act neutrally when it proceeds in a manner intolerant of 11 religious beliefs or restricts practices because of their religious nature"; and

12 WHEREAS, the U.S. Supreme Court in Espinoza v. Montana Dept. of Revenue, 140 S. Ct. 2246, 2276
13 (2020) (Gorsuch, J., concurring), stated that "[t]he Constitution forbids laws that prohibit the free exercise of 14 religion. That guarantee protects not just the right to be a religious person, holding beliefs inwardly and secretly; 15 it also protects the right to act on those beliefs outwardly and publicly [italics removed]"; and

16 WHEREAS, the Espinoza Court noted that the U.S. Supreme Court has "long recognized the 17 importance of protecting religious actions, not just religious status" and, quoting Cantwell v. Connecticut, 310 18 U.S. 296, 3030 (1940), state that "the First Amendment protects the 'freedom to act' as well as the 'freedom to 19 believe'"; and

20 WHEREAS, in Thomas v. Review Bd. of Ind. Employment Security Div., 450 U.S. 707, 717-718 (1981),
21 the U.S. Supreme Court held that the government violates the Free Exercise Clause whenever it "conditions 22 receipt of an important benefit upon conduct prescribed by a religious faith, or... denies such a benefit because 23 of conduct mandated by a religious belief, thereby putting substantial pressure on an adherent to modify his 24 behavior and to violate his beliefs."
