Description of fiscal impact

SB 267 creates a tax credit for charitable gifts made to public infrastructure projects. This credit is likely to be somewhat volatile year to year but is estimated to decrease general fund revenue by an average of approximately $3 million per year beginning with FY 2027.

FISCAL ANALYSIS

Assumptions

Department of Revenue

1. SB 267 creates a tax credit for charitable gifts made to public infrastructure projects. Individual or corporate income taxpayers will be eligible for a nonrefundable tax credit for 50% of the present value of a charitable gift made to a certified public infrastructure project up to a maximum credit amount of $500,000.

2. The bill defines "certified public infrastructure project" as a project to acquire or build real property that is either owned by state or local government and used to provide to general public educational, health, or civic service needs. The Department of Revenue will certify projects that meet the qualifications.

3. The number of claims and total credit amounts are unpredictable and likely to vary year to year based on the current infrastructure projects and any large donations they may receive.

4. Based on available data on donations for a few specific public projects, it is estimated that claims for this credit will average approximately $3 million per year. This bill applies to tax year beginning after December 31, 2025, so it is assumed credits could begin being claimed on TY 2026 returns in FY 2027. It is assumed taxpayers claiming the credit will have sufficient tax liability to claim the whole credit, so general fund revenues will decrease by an average of $3 million per year.

5. The Department of Revenue will not incur significant additional costs because of this bill.

Technical Concerns

Department of Revenue

1. The bill does not specify the ability for tax credits claimed by pass-through entities, estates and trusts to be able to flow through and be claimed by the owners.

2. The bill does not address the need for a corporation to add back any deductions for charitable donations that this credit is being claimed for.
